Montana artists encouraged to join Find Art website

The artist directory, www.findartmontana.com, is designed specifically to help visitors locate artists, studios and art as they travel in the state and enjoy the local culture.

Jan Shanahan and Kris Kramer, both residents of Whitefish, put the site together. They encourage all Montana artists to become part of the FindArtMontana community.

It’s easy to participate by filling out the Artist Information Form located on the About Us page. Take a few moments to complete, attach it to an email, and allow the site to promote your work.

Each artist’s name appears on Artists-by-Location and the Artists-by-Medium pages, and then links to the artist’s own profile page. Each profile page includes the artist’s information, a photo of the artist at work, the artist’s logo, and four or five photos of artwork.

This page further links to the artist’s own email or website and galleries that represent the artist’s work. The site owners are adding artists as quickly as possible to create a rich experience for users.
